Riello UPS Service Partner

Part No.

Product Description

Riello UPS Ltd is part of the Italian Riello Elettronica group and one of the largest manufacturers of Uninterruptible Power Supplies (UPS) and Standby Power Systems in Europe with offices worldwide.

The company has three centres for design and manufacture in Italy: Legnago, Milan and Turin and has been working in partnership with Adept Power Solutions for many years.

Renowned for their ability to combine competitive pricing with high quality, and hence Riello UPS is highly recommended by Adept Power Solutions for Server Room and Data Centre applications.

Uninterruptible power supplies are about more than power protection. The Riello UPS range for server rooms and data centres offers cost-effective first-class power protection whilst safeguarding your reputation, business continuity and sources of revenue. Their products shield loads from damaging power problems that can compromise the life and performance of expensive computer equipment.

Adept Power Solutions are both an authorised Reseller of Riello UPS and authorised Riello Service Partner. All APS engineers have undergone high quality and rigorous Riello training for installation, servicing and repair.
